Marcia Rench Reigns As Homecoming Queen

The President Speaks

A MESSAGE FROM JOHN W. BACHMAN

The Homecoming weekend should provide some of those "brightest days" about which we sing in the Wartburg Loyalty Song. A literalist could object to those words because it would be too bad if our happiest experiences actually occurred in college and graduation meant leaving all romance and adventure to enter a treadmill to drudgery and oblivion.

I hope, instead, that when you leave Wartburg you will have learned to find ever-deepening joys in your family life, in your occupation, in your service to God.

But this realization need not tarnish the brightness of present events. In fact, the full enjoyment of today's experiences may be one of the best preparations for tomorrow. And the memory of college fun and friendships can permeate relationships for a lifetime. That is why Homecoming means so much to so many alumni.

So I hope we can all enjoy the activities of Homecoming from Kastle Kapers to the Warsaw Philharmonic concert -- and including the football game. How we would like to see an upset at Schield Stadium today.

In any case, it should be a grand weekend, full of the brightest days you've known -- so far.

Welcome Wartburg Alumni

Members of the Trumpet staff and student body extend a hearty welcome to returning alumni. It is hoped that you will enjoy the activities that have been planned for the weekend.

Members of the Central Committee have worked for many weeks planning the events for your enjoyment as well as for the student body.

Members of the Homecoming Court are Barbara Bose, Janice Howard, Betty Kalkwarf and Barbara Matthias.

Queen Marcia is from Ames and is the daughter of Mrs. Eileen Rench. An elementary education major, she is currently student teaching third grade at the Carey School.

ROYALTY IS not new for Marcia. She was a Pi Sigma princess in her freshman year and a candidate for Pi Sigma queen in her sophomore year. She is a past president of Pi Sigma and serves on the Student Welfare Committee.

Wedding bells will be ringing for the new queen in the summer. Pinned to Al Snook, a former student body president, Marcia is planning a June wedding. Afterward she hopes to teach in California, where Al is stationed in the Marines.

Barbara Bose hails from Dumas, Tex. A senior English major, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bose. She has four older brothers, all graduates of Wartburg.

BARB IS presently student teaching at the Waverly-Shell Rock High School. She is a member of Wartburg Choir, Alpha Chi and a past president of Pi Sigma. She was a Pi Sigma queen and attendant to a sports queen.

After graduation Barb plans to attend graduate school.

A senior elementary education major, Janice Howard is from Wyoming, Ill. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ned Howard and she has a brother and two sisters.

JAN IS a secretary in the Dean of Students' office. In addition, she is student teaching fourth grade at the Lincoln School. She is a member of Pi Sigma, secretary of WJC and has been a cheerleader.

Engaged to Al Buenning, a graduate of last year, Jan is planning to be married in June. She hopes to teach in Independence.

Betty Kalkwarf is from Champaign, Ill., and is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Kalkwarf. A German major, Betty is enrolled in the secondary education program. She has one brother and one sister.

CASTLE SINGERS, Pi Sigma and her job at the switchboard help to keep Betty busy. She was also chairman of Snow Weekend. She has served as a sports queen attendant.

Betty is planning to teach after graduation. She will be married to senior Gerald Baldner in August.

A senior business education major, Barbara Matthias is from Pomona, Cal. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Werner Matthias. She has two brothers and one sister.

CHEERLEADING and her duties as Student Body Secretary keep Barb's free time to a minimum. She is also student teaching at the Waverly-Shell Rock High School this semester.

Barb is last year's Snow Weekend Queen. After graduation she plans to teach, possibly in Colorado.

The queen was honored last night at a reception in Centennial Hall. There she was met by students, parents and alumni. Today she will be presented at the football game.

QUEEN MARCIA and her court will be honored again at the dance tonight. They also appeared in the parade this morning.

In addition to the queen and her court, five other girls were in the semifinals of the Homecoming Queen election. They were seniors Helene Kurtz, Ronda Ludvigson, Gwen Parlin, Donna Meyer and Sherry Zeitlow.

It has been a busy week for these five girls, but one they will never forget. For the members of the Court it was an exciting experience. For Marcia Rench, it was finding out just what it's like to be Homecoming Queen.

Up He Goes!

Tom Wilson, junior, makes one last effort to conquer the slippery pole. He was winner of the Greased Pole Contest Thursday night.

Prof To Edit Spanish Play

Dr. Virgil A. Warren, Modern Languages Department, has been granted a contract from Prentice - Hall for a textbook he is preparing.

Dr. Warren's book is a school textbook edition of a play entitled "A Skein of Sky Blue Wool." The play was written by Spanish playwright Jose Lopez Rubio.

The plot features a spinster who has the misfortune to introduce each of her prospective husbands to a more attractive friend.

The spinster arrives unexpectedly at the home of one of these friends, her intention being to win back her friend's husband.

The young wife, suspecting the spinster's intentions, feigns pregnancy and begins knitting infant clothing from sky blue yarn. Thinking that an heir is coming, the spinster decides that she cannot wreck the home, and gives up her original intentions.

However, she is not left alone. The young husband has a bachelor uncle, who neatly completes the plot.

Enthusiasm and Excitement Mount, Dance Climaxes Today's Activities

By GARY C. OLSON

Enthusiasm and excitement for Homecoming 1964 continued to gain momentum this morning with the annual Homecoming parade.

Wartburg students and Waverly citizens lined both sides of Bremer Avenue to witness numerous floats and displays presenting the 1964 Homecoming theme, "Unity Amid Diversity."

Registration for alumni, the Alumni Association breakfast, the Alpha Chi Breakfast and Off-campus house and dormitory judging were also held this morning.

LAST EVENING'S activities featured Kastle Kapers, the pep rally and bonfire and a reception in honor of the 1964 Homecoming Queen, Miss Marcia Rench.

Luther Ahrens, Wyoming, won first place in the freshman beard growing contest. Dick Bartell of Mt. Prospect, Ill., was judged runner - up. Russell McCaskey, Palatine, Ill., placed third while Gary Moe of Montevideo, Minn., placed fourth.

Following Kapers, the majority of the student body attended the pep rally and bonfire. Queen Marcia addressed the crowd in regard to today's Wartburg-Luther football game.

"It's not whether we win or lose tomorrow," Her Majesty said, "it's how we play the game that's important."

Student Body President Dave Hutson retorted this statement by saying, "I don't care how you play the game. It Is important whether you win or lose."

Hutson stakes his pride and his pants on the outcome of this afternoon's battle.

HOMECOMING got underway in big fashion Thursday evening with the "Mighty Knights March." Practically the entire student body turned out in top spirit for the march to the fairgrounds.

A panel of three judges chose Off-campus as the winner of the "Yell Like Hell" contest held that evening. Other entrants included the three campus dorms, Grossmann, North and Clinton.

Junior Tom Wilson of Ketha House earned seven dollars in the greased pole climb. Sophomore Rich Medlar of Clinton left the march with five dollars more than when he joined.

FOLLOWING the football game this afternoon a reception for alumni will be held in the big tent along with the Clinton Hall coffee for all students and guests in the Clinton lounge.

Social hour in the Castle Room of the Student Memorial Union will begin at 5:30 with the banquet following at 6:30. Speaker for the banquet is Pres. John W. Bachman.

"Come With Me To The Sea," the Homecoming dance, will conclude Saturday's festivities. The dance will begin at 9 p.m.

FOURTH AND final day of Wartburg's big weekend will include the. Alpha Phi Gamma breakfast at the home of Mrs. Margaret Garland at 8:30, worship service at 10 a.m., open house in dormitories and residences from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and the dedication of the Student Memorial Union at 3 p.m.

A concert by the Warsaw Philharmonic Orchestra will conclude the Homecoming weekend. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the Knights Gymnasium.

Book Translated By Dr. Tillmanns

"Confirmation: A Study Document," prepared by the Commission on Education of the Lutheran World Federation, is the latest book translated by Dr. Walter G. Tillmanns, Modern Languages Department.

It was placed on sale last week by the Augsburg Publishing House, Minneapolis, Minn. Earlier this year Augsburg published "Messages of the Helsinki Assembly," which contained two chapters translated by Dr. Tillmanns.

Biology Students Serve As Tutors

A tutoring program for General Biology students is being initiated by Tri-Beta, national biology honor society.

Aim for the program is to give individual help to students with specific problems, as well as to encourage possible future biology majors, according to Jim Gronewold, Tri-Beta president.

Help sessions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings each week from 7-8 p.m. in Room 308 Luther Hall. Tri-Beta members will be present at these meetings to give assistance.

Individual or private help is also available by contacting the instructor, who will then recommend a particular biology major to serve as tutor.

Film To Conclude Opening Block Of Convocations

Movie, "The Living Machine," will conclude the block "Springs of Human Behavior" in Tuesday's convocation. A Reformation worship service will be on the agenda for Thursday.

Tuesday's film will explore the parallels between the operations of a man-made computer.

While making some surprising predictions of the future, the film asks the question as to whether or not the computer will take over thinking processes.

Dr. Louis Valbracht will speak on "The Return to Catholicity" in the formal worship service on Thursday's convocation. Dr. Valbracht is a well-known clergyman who presently serves as the pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Des Moines. This congregation is the largest in the Lutheran Church of America (LCA).

'Homecoming-Away-From-Home' For Alumni At ALC Convention

Homecoming festivities this year were extended 600 miles and one day to accommodate Wartburg alumni attending the convention at the American Lutheran Church in Columbus, Ohio.

These alumni were guests of the Columbus Alumni Chapter at a special "Homecoming-away-from-home" Dinner. It was held on Thursday evening at the Fort Haynes Hotel in Columbus, according to Bob Gremmels, alumni director.

Guest speaker for the dinner was Dr. John W. Bachman, Wartburg president. He spoke on the theme of this year's Homecoming, "Unity Amid Diversity." About 100-125 people attended the occasion.

Several Graduate Fellowships Available For Eligible Seniors

Several graduate scholarships are open to eligible graduating seniors, according to Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty.

Danforth Graduate Fellowships for three to four years of graduate work are open to both men and women for the first time. There is no restriction on citizenship. Nominations have to be made by Dr. Chellevold, Danforth liaison officer.

A one-year fellowship is available from the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. A Wartburg faculty member must make the nomination.

National Science Foundation Fellowships are open to interested graduates in areas of science, math, political science, psychology and sociology. Deadline for applications is Dec. 10, 1964. Students make their own applications.

Rhodes Scholarships for studying at Oxford University are open to men with an over-all impressive record. Appointment to a Rhodes Scholarship is made for two years with a possible third year if the plan of study warrants such an award.

More details on these and other fellowships may be obtained from Dr. Chellevold.

2 Juniors Attend Press Convention

Juniors Marvin Ackerman and Bill Glitz are attending the Associated Collegiate Press convention in Chicago this weekend. Ackerman represents the Fortress, while Glitz is the Trumpet delegate.

Convention proceedings started Thursday and were to end today. Besides regular sessions, Ackerman attended the national Alpha Phi Gamma convention as president of the Wartburg chapter.

He presented a short report on the activities of the campus chapter of this national honorary journalism fraternity.

Seven Faculty Members Attend Iowa State Education Convention

Several faculty members were in Des Moines Oct. 15 and 16 attending a convention of the Iowa State Education Association.

Dr. Edith Tiempo, English Department, on Friday led a discussion group, entitled "Teaching Poetry," at the English teachers' session of the convention.

Dr. Katherine Love and Dr. Walter Tillmanns, both of the Modern Languages Department, also attended the convention. Dr. Love is president of the German Teachers Association.

MISS MATTIE HARMS, registrar, attended the Iowa Institutional Teacher Placement Association meeting, held in conjunction with the convention.

President of the Iowa Business Education Association is Mrs. Gloria Hansen. She and Melvin Kramer, both of the Wartburg Department of Business Administration, represented that department at the session.

Miss Stella M. Austerud, Elementary Education Department, also attended convention sessions both Thursday and Friday.

LT. COL. JOHN Powers, U.S. Air Force, retired, spoke to the general meeting of the Association Thursday. Topic of his presentation was "Space Age Challenge to Education."

On Friday morning, John Ciardi, poetry editor of the Saturday Review, spoke on "The Act of Language."

Alpha Psi Omega To Initiate Eight

Lambda Mu, Wartburg chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics society, will pledge eight students this year. Initiation will take place in February.

Requirements for membership include a certain number of hours' work in the crew or cast of a play. Members of this fraternity receive national recognition, as their names appear in the fraternity's national publication.

Seniors pledging APO are Bob Bone, Kathy Becker and Dan Moeller. Juniors are Ann Wesender and Norma Gray. Sophomores are Mary Jane Koob, Allen Lyndrup and Jim Ludwig.

Curtain To Open On Play Thurs.

Playwright Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" will be presented by the Wartburg Theatre this coming Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. John Gill, Speech Department, will direct the play.

Miller's play is based on the McCarthy hearings on un-American activities, held in the middle of the 20th century.

Because these hearings presented such a controversial theme, Miller chose to produce a play on another interference with government, the Salem witch trials. Thus, "The Crucible" was written.

Cheever, to be played by sophomore Lyle Page, has been added to the cast of characters. The part of the Rev. Mr. Hale will be played by freshman Bob Szabo.

Curtain time will be 8 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium. Admission will be by activity ticket.

Sophomore Vicki Van Slyke and senior Delma Froidceuer rehearse their lines for the upcoming Wartburg Theatre production of "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller.

Success Isn't Simple

What makes a successful Homecoming? Is it spirit and lots of hard work? Is it the type of day? Is it the people you spend the weekend with? Or is it the alumni who come back to relive, in part, years that cannot be matched in post-graduate life?

This week we have launched another Homecoming weekend. Whatever it is that makes the event successful seems to have permeated the campus. There is color and pageantry. There is laughter and excitement.

There is a spirit for the football game that is unequaled when we face any rival but Luther. There is a campus full of decorations, representing hours of labor in the wee hours of the past few days. There are tired people who have neglected tests to work on committees and floats.

THERE ARE THESE same people full of pep and enthusiasm when the weekend finally arrives and they see their brain child emerge -- maybe even to win first place in the parade.

There is glamour -- in the Homecoming court, in that exciting date for the weekend, in a new dress chosen especially for the dance.

But most of all, there are alumni. Alumni who perhaps do not even recognize the growing campus and new buildings from their alma mater of the past. Alumni who hold important positions in their respective communities.

ALUMNI WHO HAVE helped to make this place the college it is today. Alumni who have, at one time or another, shared in the work and spirit of planning a Homecoming. Alumni who know what we're going through because they've been through it before. And through their experiences, they have helped to make Wartburg just a little bit better in some way or other.

What is it that makes a Homecoming a success? There is no definite answer. Homecoming is too complex to have one key part. Perhaps that is why we chose "Unity Amid Diversity" as our theme this year.

For as well as applying to our Christian lives, it can be seen everywhere during the weekend. Diverse activities blend together for a successful Homecoming 1964.

KWAR Informs Fans

Last Saturday the football team won its first game of the season. Since the game was in Oskaloosa, most of us didn't have a chance to see it. But we did have the opportunity to listen to the game on KWAR-FM.

Just how many students were listening to that game is not known. But from the results of a random survey in the dorm, there were quite a few people with their radios tuned in to the game.

It was an exciting game, as indicated by the close score. After it was over, students were enthusiastic enough to stage a victory celebration in the evening. Granted, the broadcast may not have prompted this action, but it certainly gave all here a chance to find out what was going on at William Penn.

KWAR could fill the gap created by out-of-town games by broadcasting them. Let's hope it's a practice that continues.

Welcome Grads. Look at our beautiful campus. Look at all the fine improvements and nice modern equipment. Look at the fine new buildings. Aren't you impressed? Good. Could we please have some money? Help.

Last Saturday night's display of enthusiasm with the return of the football team is what Wartburg needs a little more of.

Welcome alumni: We're glad you could come back for a one Knight stand.

Folkerts' Folly

What A Weekend!

BY JIM FOLKERTS

Level Luther's 'Leven'! Oh, I hope so! If the Wartburg Knights beat the Luther Norse on Homecoming this afternoon, the season will seem to be a successful one.

--o--

Yes, it's Homecoming at Wartburg, and what a time it is! It has been building up all year, and now the big week has arrived.

All the work (with no time for play) which has gone into Homecoming finally seems worth it.

THE PARADE, decorations and housing units in all their beauty and splendor; the game, banquet and dance with all their cost; and Kastle Kapers, pep rallies and the Homecoming Queen with their display of school spirit, all give one an enchanted feeling of belonging at Wartburg.

Nothing shows this better than all the returning alumni. Many different feelings are experienced in the return of these past Knights -- joy, sorrow, regret and, best of all, the feeling of being welcome.

FOLKERTS

--o--

The central Homecoming Committee presents the best example of Homecoming effects. Many members seem to have aged, many seem to have regressed and many seem to be hardly existing (mentally). But usually everything done is well appreciated, and committee members have a feeling of great accomplishment, even though they have gone through money as though it's going out of style.

--o--

HOMECOMING ALSO brings parents and sweethearts to Wartburg to see this place that the students just can't seem to stop bragging about. Homecoming is the best time to come to Wartburg because with all that is going on, for once, it is really quite impressive.

Homecoming 1964 will be like all the past Homecomings at Wartburg in one main respect. All those who participated in it wholeheartedly will remember it forever.

A blessed Homecoming to all--even faculty members!

--o--

Now for a note on last week's article. Yes, I got a few replies. They were interesting, to say the least. I thank those who read my article and then gave their point of view. Maybe you're right, but maybe I'm right.

MY COLUMN is "Folkerts' Folly," and it is supposed to be humorous. I try to follow this assignment. There is one comment from a letter I received that I would like to quote:

"You can redeem yourself by writing an apologetic letter to Wartburg women, or you can continue in your present opinions. If you decide on the latter, may your column be known for what it is -- pure folly!"

It was signed, "An irate former reader." Well, I'm not apologizing!

If there is no truth in my article, then no one should be mad. Girls should, instead, be happy because it does not apply, and happy because of the humor and folly it is supposed to convey.

But if some anger does exist, then my words must have hit home and some people must have taken them seriously as truth and not folly in their application to everyday life.

More Unity Emerges From Vast Diversity

BY KEITH A. TOMLINSON

Unity amid diversity -- certainly this phrase has become familiar to us in the days prior to Homecoming. Our Homecoming program pictures the hands of God extending from above and cupped around a torn world. However, I wonder if it means much to us, or rather if it takes second place to the game theme in our thinking.

It seems quite obvious, however, that the first theme is applicable even to the game and the whole weekend. Eleven different men playing at diverse positions must work as a unit if there is to be any success.

Likewise, dozens of students with various capabilities, holding diverse opinions and ideas, must cooperate as a unit in the planning of Homecoming. The dance band must produce a pleasing, unified sound from an assortment of notes originating from diverse instruments.

WE CAN SEE, then, as far as these things are concerned, unity amid diversity is quite important. In fact, who would deny that this is the theme of all life?

Men do not exist as separate and isolated entities. They interact, they cooperate, they unite their efforts. The cells, tissues and organs do not operate randomly, but each as an integral part of the whole, each with different yet complementary functions.

So it is in every discipline. The basic theme of life from any standpoint is unity amid diversity. Christianity is no exception. Over and over again in our religion we are presented with these facts. Christ died for all, He lives for all, we are all one in the fellowship of our Lord.

IN THE MIDST of our lives, with all our differences of status, wealth, temperament, health, nationality, color, emotions, drives and goals, we are all called together at the Cross of Christ. We gather to worship in singleness of heart.

God offers us all the same complete forgiveness for our sins.

An important feature of this unity is that it is not in a framework of unity, but rather, as our theme states, it is unity in a diverse setting.

Pastor Diers emphasized this in his Communion sermon a few weeks ago. People all over the world came to the Lord's Table that morning. In so communing, we were not set apart from the world in a framework of unity.

WE BROUGHT with us all of our various feelings and backgrounds and communed in a place of diversity -- a room used for plays, movies, lectures and meetings.

Perhaps the artist's picture of unity amid diversity is a bit misleading. The hands of God are cupped AROUND the world. They ought to be reaching INTO the world. The message of God and the work of the Holy Spirit are not external forces joining the fissures of diversity. Christian unity is a spirit from within.

The unity of Christ's church is often overlooked. It is something which ought to come naturally through faith, but can be easily by-passed. St. Paul gives us an important exhortation concerning such a situation.

SPEAKING TO the Ephesians, he reminded them that there is one body and one spirit, and yet God has given different gifts to His followers that they might be apostles, prophets, pastors or teachers -- all for the building up of the Kingdom of God.

When each part of the body of Christ is working properly, the whole makes bodily growth and upbuilds itself in love (Ephesians 4:16).

There is a place in the church for every talent. There is a place and a need in the Wartburg congregation for every student to contribute time and effort. This is the one place on our campus where we really see the hand of God working unity amid diversity.

GOD'S GIFTS to us are many and varied, but whatever he has given us, He wants us to use in finding a place in His plan for salvation. This is as it ought to be. There could be no unity were there no diversity to begin with. There could be only sameness, monotonous repetition in quality and quantity of life.

It might seem that the diversities are too great sometimes, but the greater the diversity, the fuller, richer and more profitable is the unity which can emerge. And when the vastness of human diversity has been fully joined in the will of God, the apex of unity will have been reached.

Luther Invades Schield Stadium For Wartburg Homecoming Tilt

With one victory tucked safely away in the win column, the Wartburg Knights are bracing themselves for the invading horde of Norwegians from Decorah.

This afternoon in Schield Stadium, Wartburg and Luther will battle for the 22nd time.

WARTBURG IS now 1-4 on the season as a result of its 14-12 come - from - behind victory against William Penn at Oskaloosa last Saturday.

Knights scored in the last two minutes of the game on a razzle-dazzle pass play from Dick Basham to Paul Zietlow, who lateraled the ball off to Roger Kittleson, who, in turn, scampered into the end zone for the points the Jo-men needed for victory.

When asked about this play, Coach Norm Johansen commented, "That play was no accident. It was planned all the way. In fact, we used that same pass and lateral play two years ago to defeat Penn here."

IF ONE UNIT could be singled out for a job well done last week, it would have to be the line.

"Our defensive line did a better job than it had been doing all year. The interior line stopped Penn really well.

"We did run into some trouble on the outside, but as a whole I was pleased," Jo commented.

JO ALSO PASSED out praise to his offensive line.

"We were able to run very well to our left. They turned in a real fine job over there. Our right side on offense consisted mainly of reserves because of injuries to Al Anderson and Denny Rubenow, but the replacements were capable."

A new defensive alignment was installed by the coaches for last week's game against Penn. It consisted of a four-man line, two cornerbacks, two outside linebackers, the middle linebacker and the two safeties.

JO FURTHER EXPLAINED this new alignment: "We call this our pro-set defense. It worked out very well for us, so we'll probably continue with it."

Knights moved the ball well all afternoon against Penn, and once again Dick Basham hit Paul Zietlow with several key passes, including the game winner.

JOHANSEN HAD THIS to say about Luther: "I haven't seen them in any previous games, but you can bet that they have a fine ballclub. When we go into this game, we can forget about any previous scores; they don't mean a thing when Luther and Wartburg tangle. Luther is big and will have to be stopped.

"We hope to have a few surprises for them, but there will be only a few things changed -- not many. In fact, we will have no drastic changes. We are just going to try to do better what we have been attempting over the last several weeks.

"We are in good shape as far as injuries go. Everyone will be ready to play."

The Norse are 2-3 so far this season, well below what was expected of them. They are still led by Jerry Wonders, who ripped the Iowa Conference apart with his running last season.

If the Knights can topple Luther this afternoon -- and that's a big if -- it will be their first win over the Norsemen in three seasons.

Next week, Wartburg travels to Indianola to take on a vastly improved team of Simpson Redmen.

Freshman Wins Golf Tournament

Freshman John Stueber won Wartburg's fall intramural golf tournament last Saturday at the Waverly Golf Course. Stueber finished the nine-hole course with a 68, which was three strokes ahead of his nearest competitors.

Wartburg sophomores are definitely dominating the fall I-M tennis tournament. Two rounds are nearly completed in the single elimination tournament, and five sophomores are still in contention for the title.

Gary Olson, Steve Kollmann, Steve Fredrick, Jerry Bishop, Dave Ziegler and Dave Blomberg, all won second-round matches. Steve Fredrick also won a third-round match from Dave Blomberg to advance another step in the tournament.

Becker's Blunders

We Did It! We Won One!

BY MIKE BECKER

We did it. We won a game. The footballers went out and beat the pants off the William Penn team 14 - 12 on their homecoming afternoon. The spirits destined us to defeat the Penmen and we responded to their pleasure.

--o--

The 14 points we scored against the Penmen resulted in our biggest single scoring spree of the season. These points were provided by Bill Karrow on a 1-yard plunge and Rog Kittleson on a lateral from Paul Zietlow. Bob Nielsen kicked both of the vital extra points, which allowed us to win our first game of the season.

BECKER

As far as individual performances are concerned, it was the same story. The same men played well in this game that have been doing a good job all year long, but they finally received some help.

On defense, Ron Mennen again looked like certain all-conference material, making eight unassisted tackles on one of Penn's longer drives. Our revised pro-type defense seemed to work better than anything else tried this year. The defensive backfield also made some changes and showed up better.

--o--

We again had trouble penetrating into the enemy's end zone. However, we picked up over one hundred yards on the ground, which is new for us.

Rog Kittleson again turned in a fine job at offensive halfback, along with intercepting a vital pass on one of our goal line stands. Bob Nielsen made a beautiful pass reception while high in the air wedged between two Penn defensive men. Karrow and Renning both picked up good yardage for their carries.

We had four passes intercepted which hurt our offensive effort in the first half especially. However, Dick Basham lowered his sights in the second half and looked good.

Again our inability to sustain a drive and then to score when within 30 yards of the goal line stopped us from really rolling.

--o--

The freshman game against Coe, although a defeat, gave us something to look forward to and something to wish for.

We finally found ourselves a big quarterback (6' 5") who can pass and also run the ball. Tom Smith, a Fond du Lac veteran, showed that he could really fire the ball. If he had had several receivers that could hang onto the ball, the score might have been quite different.

The frosh crew has a lot of big interior linemen, who, if they remain eligible, could really help the Knights in the coming years. Two of the most beautiful plays of the year occurred in this game.

Doug Hart, a frosh halfback, ran back a kick-off some eighty yards for a touchdown. The second of the two speedsters, Jack Ball, caught a pass from Smith and outran two defenders to the goal line in about a 50-yard pass play.

--o--

There has been quite a shake-up on the I-M scene this week. The National I-M ratings are in for a few revisions:

1. North Hall
2. Ketha
3. Clinton III
4. Alpha-Married Men
5. Gamma-Cotta-Grossmann I

Off-campus is the team that is the real puzzler this year. It upset Ketha to give the boys from Ketha their first I-M defeat in any sport in two years. Yet they lost to Gamma, Cotta and Grossmann I by a large margin. Their inability to have the same players there for each game has hurt their organization.

--o--

The cross-country team keeps plodding along. Luther handed the team its second defeat of the season. Next, the harriers defeated Platteville away from home with several strong showings by Wartburg runners.

Running much better than last year, Arlyn Ristau has been one of the big surprises. Jon Thieman, a freshman, has anchored the Knights to most of their victories, with Jim Rasmuson and Gaylen Fick close behind. The inconsistency of our 5th and 6th runners has cost us points in several meets.

--o--

Let's hope we can smile when today is over.

Vollmer Topples From 1st Place Alpha, North Hall Take I-M Lead

BY ED ROACH

Vollmer fell from the top spot in intramural football standings this week. North Hall tied with Alpha-Married Men, resulting in co - championship for the two teams. Off - campus failed in its bid to stay with the leaders.

Last Saturday Ketha spoiled Vollmer's undefeated season with a smashing 42-2 win. Ray Bye led the victors with his speedy running, and a stout pass defense chalked up several interceptions.

Although Off-campus could not field a complete team, it did not give up without a fight. Cotta - Gamma - Grossmann Basement took advantage of the situation, however, to post a 32-6 victory. Quarterback Bill Westphal led Cotta and company to the winning score.

Action Tuesday saw Grossmann III forfeit to Clinton II. The other game was a one-sided affair, with Grossmann II triumphing over Clinton I, 20-2. The passing combination of Richard McCabe and Jerry Bishop proved to be too much for the Clinton defense.

Alpha - Married Men maintained themselves at the top of the ratings with an unimpressive win over Clinton Basement 9-6. The large Alpha line had no trouble overcoming the blockers to pin Clinton backs behind the line of scrimmage several times.

Quarterback Bill Anderegg of the Alpha team made several long gains on the roll-out play. Jerry Shinkay was outstanding for the losers.

North Hall did not have to defend its share of the title, as Grossmann I forfeited.

Knight-Norse Rivalry Dates Back To '44

BY BILL GLITZ,
MARY KROHLOW AND
DALE WEHLING

When the Wartburg Knights take to the field this afternoon against the Luther Norsemen, it will mark the 22nd time that the Knights have done battle with the Norse on a football field.

The whole thing began back in 1944, when the two teams went at each other twice in one season. In that year, the Knights came out on top twice, 19-0 and 12-0.

In the 19-0 game, the score stood 0-0 at the end of three quarters, but a quarterback by the name of "Shorty" Saller directed the Knights to three touchdowns in the final period. With this victory the Knights spoiled the 1944 Luther homecoming.

THE 12-0 SCORE for the Knights over the Norse in 1944 closed out the football season. Wartburg ended the season with a winning record because of this victory. The Knights had two wins, one loss and one tie. Both victories were over the Norskies. The season was shortened because of World War II.

Coaching the football team was Dr. Elmer Hertel, present head of the Biology Department. The squad consisted of slightly over twenty members, while the enrollment of the college stood at just below two hundred.

In reminiscing this past week about those first games, Dr. Hertel commented, "Our material wasn't very good because of the war.

"OF COURSE, nobody had many boys, so material was more equalized among the teams. The kids who played for us were all either under 18, pre-theological students or 4-F in the draft.

"I remember that Al Pinke, brother of Victor Pinke, who presently is admissions director at Wartburg, caught a pass to help us win one of the games. The Rev. Lowell Koch, who is now at Iowa City, played very well, along with the Rev. Lawrence Sailer, who is now in Canada."

IN 1945 THE Knights met Luther in Wartburg's Homecoming game. They upped their record against the Norse to 3-0 with a 20-6 win. Bill Hughes led the Knights in this game, with the big gains for Wartburg on the end-around play.

Wartburg's ground attack worked so well on that afternoon that only three passes were attempted, two of which were completed. The Knights finished 1945 with a 3-2-1 record, good enough for second place in the Iowa Conference.

Luther picked up its first win in the series in 1946 with a come-from-behind 24-13 victory at Decorah. Stanley Hall was coach of the Knights that year, his only year as a Wartburg football mentor.

WALDO PLATTE, a defensive lineman for the Knights, scored a touchdown when Luther attempted a first down punt from its own four-yard line.

This put the Knights in front at the half, 13-12, but the Norse wore the Knights down in the second half to win. Wartburg finished 1946 with a 2-5 record.

Wartburg's year to come from behind was 1947. Being down 20-6 early in the game, the Knights rallied to win 27-20 and thrilled a Homecoming crowd at Waverly that, on the same day, was celebrating Wartburg's 80th year as a college.

MELVIN NELSON, who was to coach the Knights for four years, was in his first year as head coach. The '47 game had more than its share of excitement, as an excerpt from the Trumpet of Nov. 8, 1947, demonstrates:

"Final play of the game gave Wartburg fans a momentary scare when the Norsemen pulled a bit of razzle-dazzle.

"With the ball on the 50, Luther backfield men exchanged a number of laterals and passes before Grant finally threw a long pass to Ashchim, who was pulled down from behind on the Wartburg four.

"HOWEVER, THE play was declared illegal because of the number of passes thrown from behind the line of scrimmage."

In 1948 Luther upset the Knights with a 12-7 Homecoming win at Decorah. It was the Knights' first loss of the season, while Luther picked up its first win in four starts in the game.

The Knights played outstanding defensive ball in this game, twice halting Luther within its own five-yard line, but they could not muster up enough offense to win.

WARTBURG DID have one outstanding offensive player in the '48 game, a fellow who was called the "Tama Express," Erv Hanus. Hanus, who was only a freshman, ended the season ranked as 19th in final small college rushing statistics for the '48 season.

The year 1949 saw the Knights lose a hard-fought battle, 13-12, in a game played in Waterloo. This was the first college game ever to be held in that city. The game was a typical Wartburg-Luther fracas, as can be seen by these remarks in the Trumpet from Oct. 8, 1949:

"Fee Hanus, the Knights' version of a Sherman tank, had his face torn open in the first quarter. The wound required several stitches to be closed.

"IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to see how the cut could have been opened by contact with any regulation football equipment. That leaves a little but an opponent's hands to do the job....

"Paul Bruns was also subjected to the same treatment. He was dumped viciously into a sand jumping pit at the edge of the field and once had to take time out to give his twisted ankle a rest."

PAUL BRUNS WAS ranked 18th in the nation in rushing statistics for small colleges at the end of the season.

The year 1950 produced the battle of the have-nots, as both Wartburg and Luther went into the game with no wins to their credit. Luther, using a "new" offensive formation, the split T, defeated the Knights 20-0.

Knights had one of their poorest years in 1948, winning only one game and losing eight.

IN 1951 EARNEST Oppermann (that's right) saw his only season as head football coach of the Knights.

Wartburg had four of the starting 11 men sitting out the Luther game with injuries, which helped Luther easily defeat the Knights 34-0 in Wartburg's Homecoming game.

Ed Kittleson, brother of Roger Kittleson, was a star halfback on this team.

IN 1952 A new coach appeared on the football scene at Wartburg. Norm Johansen began his first year as head coach, and the Wartburg team soon became known as the Jo-men.

The Norse drubbed the Knights in 1952, 34-13. Some of the stars for the Knights that year were "Tuffy" Schumann, Wendy Liemohn, Norby Woods and Rudy Grube.

Wartburg pulled off one of its biggest upsets in football in the 1953 encounter with Luther. Led by the quarterbacking of Ted Fritschel and the pass-catching of Wendy Liemohn, the Knights surprised Luther 14-6.

Bill Bomhoff and Stan Kittleson were other outstanding players for the Knights during the 1953 season. A quote from the Trumpet of Oct. 3, 1953, reads:

"For the first time in many years, Knight ball carriers went fumbleless, while the Norwegians bobbled on three crucial occasions."

KNIGHTS ENDED 1953 with a 4-5 record, their best since 1949, and with a promise of better things to come.

Luther and Wartburg met in a homecoming tilt at Decorah in 1954 with the Norse coming out on top, 28-7, a game which squelched the Knight hopes for an Iowa Conference crown.

IN 1955 THE Knights were again soundly defeated by the Norse, 27-7. Knights scored early in the game and held a 7-0 lead at the half, but Luther hit Wartburg with 13 and 14 points in the third and fourth quarters, respectively, for an easy win.

Wartburg's star halfback, Bill Bomhoff, suffered a shoulder separation, which considerably stymied Knight offense.

Wendell Liemohn, Gerry Lenguadoro, Stan Kittleson and Dick Lehmann were among the standout performers for the Knights during the year.

LUTHER TOOK the measure of the Knights again in 1956 in a game that dedicated Schield Stadium.

This was the year 1945 and the Knights lined up for a picture in their second year as Luther rivals.

The score was 34-12. The loss was the 12th straight for the Knights. Art Margheim, senior quarterback, was the offensive show for the Knights in '56 with two touchdown passes.

Luther, with its typically large squad (in number of players and size of players), rolled up 381 yards against a Knight team that was led by Al Limberg, Bob Keister, Bob Weishoff, Dave Reiff, Dick Schuenke, Carl Schwartz, Lyle Wilharm and Harvey Folkerts.

IN 1957 LUTHER won its fourth straight from the Knights by a 25-13 score. The game was tied at 13-all at the half, but, as has been the case in so many Luther-Wartburg battles, the Norse took charge in the second half.

This was a Knight squad that was made up of many freshmen and sophomores.

THE YOUNG SQUAD finished the season with a 5-4 record and brought shouts of "Wait 'til next year, Norskies."

The first and only tie to date was the result of the 1958 encounter between the two schools, as they battled to a 6-6 tie. Freshman Lowell Junkman picked off a Luther pass and raced 85 yards for the Knights' only score.

The tie, although disappointing at the time, launched the Knights to their best season in history as they finished with a 7-0-1 record to win the Iowa Conference championship. In the process of winning the conference crown, the Knights set 15 new school football records.

One thing still loomed in the gridders' minds, however. They had gone five years without a victory over Luther.

And then came 1959 -- and suddenly the five straight losses were forgotten in one "beautiful" rainy evening at Decorah. The Knights crunched their way to their largest margin of victory in the series, 26-0. Dave Jensen, Bob Niemann and Phil Parker played outstanding football for the Knights on this late September evening.

THE YEAR 1959 brought another Iowa Conference championship, as the Knights were undefeated and untied in the conference race. Marvin Ott, Larry Raper and Dave Jensen were once again the leaders of the Knight offense. Of course, players too numerous to mention backed up these three with superb blocking and tackling.

Wartburg won its second in a row over the Norse in 1960 with a 20-7 win. This year marked the debut of Dave Olson as backfield coach for the Knights. The Trumpet from Oct. 1, 1960, reads:

"Behind 7-0, the Knights came to life and completely dominated the Norsemen . . . as Marv Ott, sensational quarterback, provided the leadership."

In 1960 the Knights finished third place in the Iowa Conference with a 6-2 mark. Other stars for the Knights of 1960 were Chuck Wallin, Gerald Buckler, John Klaudt, Hank Geisman, Don Sowers, Bob Mueller, Terry Schneider and Dennis Krominga.

With all the success that had gone to the Knights in the past three seasons, the two wins over Luther in '59 and '60 were probably two of the most satisfying experiences in the lives of the coaching staff and players who participated.

NUMBER THREE in a row was pulled off by the Knights in 1961 as they defeated Luther in a rain-soaked 7-6 struggle in Decorah. The hero of the game was a sophomore by the name of Eldon Ott.

Ott picked up a Luther fumble on the Wartburg 25 and raced 75 yards for a touchdown. Luther scored later in the first half, but its extra point attempt was no good.

Second half saw both teams battle to a standstill on the muddy field, as the Knights clung to their slim one-point margin to pick up victory number three in a row over the Norse.

KNIGHTS, WITH a predominantly young team, went on to a disappointing season at 2-7. New names began to appear in the sports columns of the Trumpet, such as Eldon Ott, Bill Fulcher, Bob Nielsen, Gary Leeper and Brent Bruns.

In 1962, the Knights saw their three - game winning streak against the Norsemen go down the drain as they were beaten 25-7. The Norse ground it out that year over the Jo-men and came away with a more hard-fought victory than the score would indicate.

The Knights, with a predominantly young squad for the second straight year, finished with a 5-4 mark.

Names that were being read in the Trumpet sports columns were Duane Meier, Jim Pyle, Duane Huth, Gary Medlang, Dale Fridley, Paul Zietlow, Bob Wachholz, Roger Kittleson, John McKee and the Johnson brothers, Ted and Gary.

LATEST GAME in the bitter rivalry took place last year in Decorah. As nearly everyone can recall, the Norse took the Knights 34-7.

Still the Knights had some bright spots, such as the end play of Paul Zietlow, the fine line play of Dave Van Ahn, the blocking of Dale Fridley, the running of Bob Nielsen and a fine crop of young players, such as Ludvigson, Renning, Karrow and Wind.

Wartburg finished last year with a 3-6 mark, as the Knights completed their 11th season under the direction of Coach Norm Johansen.

TODAY JO takes on a Luther eleven for the 12th time in his coaching career at Wartburg, and with the traditional underdog role again.

Many things have changed from that fall afternoon when a worried world listened for news from the war fronts and "Doc" Hertel sent his Wartburg eleven out on the field to take on Luther's team in 1944.

Norm Johansen, present coach of the team, came to Wartburg in 1952.

Knights now have their own stadium, many other physical changes have come about on campus, the enrollment has increased from below two hundred to over twelve hundred, and the Battleax is now a tradition between the Norse and Knights in their athletic series and contests.

BUT ONE THING still remains --- it's always "a-rock 'em, sock 'em" football game, and today will be no exception for it isn't just a football game--it's the Luther game.

Series record with Luther follows:

1944 -- Wartburg 12, Luther 0
Wartburg 19, Luther 0
1945 -- Wartburg 20, Luther 6
1946 -- Luther 24, Wartburg 13

Democrats, Republicans Give Views On Economy

Democrats

BY RONALD KOPLITZ

The Democratic administration has been termed a "strong centralized government" in terms of size and budget. However, it has also been strong in economic accomplishments.

During the last three years of the Eisenhower administration, it was the Republicans who had the biggest peacetime balance of payments deficit the United States has ever had -- nearly $4 billion.

It was the Republicans who had the largest annual gold loss that the United States has ever suffered and who averaged a deficit over 50 per cent higher than the first three years of the Democratic administration.

THEY AVERAGED exports 20 per cent below and a trade surplus 63 per cent below the first three years of the Democratic administration.

Those who criticize the Democrats for our national debt fail to realize or admit that since 1947 the debt has continually and dramatically fallen compared to our Gross National Product.

Whereas in 1947 the nation owed $252 billion, which was 116 per cent of our GNP, today we owe about $312 billion or only about 52 per cent of our GNP. State and local debt has more than tripled since 1947, while the national debt has increased less than 25 per cent.

Every statistic and economic number available today points to a single fact: American business and American labor are flourishing in 1964 as never before. The country is in the midst of a business expansion of over 43 months, the longest in peacetime history.

KEY STATISTICS reveal that weekly manufacturing wages, industrial profits, corporate dividiends, capital spending, total employment, retail sales, housing starts, manufacturers' new orders and a host of other economic indicators of industrial health are at all-time highs without an increase in either inventories or wholesale prices.

While a static Republican philosophy still chooses to stick with classical capitalistic concepts, a dynamic Democratic administration is making the changes necessary to fit the times of greater prosperity for all Americans.

PATRONIZE TRUMPET ADVERTISERS

Republicans

BY JEAN BIERE

Can our government spend its way out of debt? Republicans give a resounding "No!" to this pertinent question.

The doctrine of Republicanism maintains that "financial responsibility is one of the cornerstones of representative government and every government expenditure must be tested by its contribution to the general welfare."

BOTH PARTIES believe in strong, responsible economic policies, but which party carries them out best? Let's compare the record of the two parties' administrations since 1900:

	Republican	Democrat
Balanced Budgets	22	3
Unbalanced Budgets	12	27
Cumulative Deficits:	$13,400,000,000	$293,000,000,000
Tax Reductions	8	2
Tax Increases	2	13

President Johnson initiated a tax cut this year, but he still spends $26 million a day more than did the Eisenhower administration. Despite his predictions of a rosy future, economists expect a recession in 1965.

Having a grossly overbalanced budget is not dangerous if the country is in a crisis, but the Johnson administration has shown recklessness in spending. Just days ago it was disclosed that untold millions for poverty had gone to cities in Pennsylvania and West Virginia which had no need of the money.

IN OPPOSITION to President Johnson's fiscal policies, Senator Goldwater wants a logical and systematic overhaul of both our present federal tax code and our federal budget.

He has proposed a tax reduction plan which would reduce the federal income tax by 25 per cent in five years. Senator Goldwater also favors the establishment of a permanent "Hoover Commission" to eliminate waste and inefficiency in government.

Student Mock Political Election Is Scheduled For Union Friday

Students will be able to vote for the political candidates of their choice in a mock election Oct. 30, according to Bob Braun, Elections Committee chairman.

Voting booths will be set up in the Student Union Lounge, and the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday.

The ballot will include candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, Governor of Iowa and Third District Congressman from Iowa.

The national ticket includes Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey, Democrats; Barry Goldwater and William Miller, Republicans.

Gubernatorial candidates from Iowa are Evan Hultman, Republican, and Harold Hughes, Democrat.

Candidates for Congress from the Third District are Stephen Peterson, Democrat; and H. R. Gross, Republican.
